

COMMUNICATION DISORDERS, MASTER OF ARTS (M.A.)

General Information

The Master of Arts Program in Communication Disorders is a two-year, full time program leading to eligibility for certification/licensure in Speech-Language Pathology by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association and Kentucky Board of Speech-Language Pathology. More complete information concerning the graduate program can be reviewed by accessing the Program website at <https://www.eku.edu/ctp/csd/>.

Program Admission Requirements

To be eligible for consideration for admission into the M.A. Program in Communication Disorders, applicants must meet the requirements for admission to the Eastern Kentucky University Graduate School and have a bachelor's degree in Communication Disorders or a related field with a minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.0 overall, which includes the fall semester prior to the application deadline of Feb. 15. Candidates admitted with a degree other than Communication Disorders must complete program pre-requisites before starting the graduate curriculum.

The following documentation must be submitted with the online application:

1. Undergraduate transcripts showing all college level courses completed.
2. A personal essay of approximately 500 words describing the applicant's professional objectives.

A review of applications will result in an initial selection of candidates to interview. CSD faculty will conduct the interviews and make final admissions decisions based upon GPA, the personal essay, and candidate interview.

Once a candidate's application has been approved, the following documentation is necessary before official admission:

Background Check - The CD Program requires a state criminal history background check approved¹ by the College of Education and Applied Human Sciences as a condition of admission. Under certain circumstances, a national criminal background check may be required as a condition of admission. An additional state criminal background check approved¹ by the College of Education and Applied Human Sciences is required prior to beginning off campus externship courses (CSD 897 Externship: School-based Experiences in Communication Disorders, CSD 898 Externship: Healthcare Experiences in Communication Disorders) or may be required at additional points in the program. Under certain circumstances, a national criminal background check may be required. Students must purchase professional liability insurance prior to enrollment in clinical practicum courses. Further, that insurance coverage must be maintained throughout enrollment in the graduate program.

¹ "Approved" is a formal review process of the criminal records report. Any misrepresentation of facts, by omission or addition, may result in the denial of admission to the Communication Disorders Program or enrollment in off campus externship courses.

Admission to Eastern Kentucky University's undergraduate program in Communication Disorders does not guarantee acceptance into Eastern Kentucky University's graduate program. There are limited spaces available in the graduate program. The most qualified applicants are admitted. Admission is based upon the criteria described above. Application forms are available online at the Graduate Education and Research website, <http://gradschool.eku.edu/apply> (<http://gradschool.eku.edu/apply/>). Submit the completed application for admission with all required documents (application form, official transcripts, essay) by February 15 to the Office of Graduate Education and Research.

Program Requirements

Probation and Progress in the Program – If, in any semester of study, a candidate's graduate grade point average falls below 3.0 for all courses taken after admission to the program, the candidate will automatically be on academic probation. The candidate will be dismissed from the program following any second semester with a cumulative GPA below 3.0. Program dismissal will also result if a candidate earns one "D," one "F," or more than two "C"s in courses taken after admission.
